

How to Report a Violation: Employers

Violation Reporting Requirements

Employers are required to report driver drug and alcohol program violations in the FMCSA Commercial Driver’s License Drug and Alcohol Clearinghouse. An employer may designate a consortium/third-party administrator (C/TPA) in the Clearinghouse to assist with meeting these reporting requirements; however, the employer retains ultimate responsibility for compliance. See the Reporting Violations for C/TPAs Job Aid for instructions.

Owner-operators—that is, employers who employ themselves as CDL drivers, typically a single-driver operation—are required to designate a C/TPA in the Clearinghouse. Owner-operators may choose to report drug and alcohol program violations for any other drivers they employ, however, the C/TPA has the responsibility to report any drug and alcohol program violation incurred by the owner-operator.

Which violations are employers responsible for reporting?

Both employers and medical review officers (MROs) are required to report drug and alcohol program violations in the Clearinghouse per § 382.705. The table below identifies who is responsible for reporting each type of violation.

Employers also have reporting requirements regarding any drivers they employ who are undergoing a return-to-duty (RTD) process. Learn more about the RTD process.
